Council shouldn't have gagged citizens at budget study session

I wonder why, when someone takes time out to go to a budget study session, that they're not allowed to ask a question?

The Westland City Council held a budget study session and not one citizen was allowed to ask a question, even though there was a lot of money at stake.

I wonder why you don't write about it, because it's gotten worse and worse.

Why was Romulus' Web page replaced by an E-mail address?

The City of Romulus used to have a great Web page at www.cityofromulus.com. Now all that shows up is "sorry the page is unavailable" and has an E-mail address and phone number to City Hall. What happened?

Caller questions Cox's claim to be King of the Jungle in rep race

Though kicked-out-of-office, former Westland Councilman David Cox considers himself a lion while referring to former Westland Councilman and current State Rep. Glenn Anderson as a lamb.

I've got news for Mr. Cox, you remind of many animals, but a lion is not one of 'em. Unless, of course, it is the kind of lion that eats it's young.

County millage 'blitzkrieg' could roll over area taxpayers

Get out of the way of the tax blitzkrieg.

Between the city, the county, and the state, we could be rolled over by a dozen tax proposals.

The worst of them are: Westland sanitation, Resa special ed, Wayne-Oakland art, SMART buses, SEMCOG speedlink, and Michigan sewer bonds.

4 seek 2 seats on School Board

By BRENDA GRACIN
MCN Special Writer

Four candidates will seek two Romulus Board of Education seats on June 10. Both vacancies are for four year terms. Current board members, Debbie Dick and Kenneth Berlenn will not run for election. Berlenn was appointed to the seat vacated by Alan Lambert when he won last November's mayoral election.

All four candidates would be newcomers to public office, but believe they can serve their community and school district well. The Romulus School District consists of seven schools, Romulus High School, Romulus Middle School, and five elementary schools, with a student population of over 4,000.

Kenneth Mientkiewicz is a lifelong resident of Romulus. A graduate of Romulus High in 1961, Mientkiewicz then attended Eastern Michigan University earning a Master's Degree in Guidance and Counseling in 1971. He has been married to wife Bonnie for 35 years, a former teacher in the Romulus School District for 30 years, who retired in 1999. They have four children, all of whom graduated from Romulus High School.

Mientkiewicz began a teaching career at Cherry Hill High School in Inkster teaching Business, and coaching junior varsity football, varsity football and varsity baseball. In 1980 he moved into guidance and counseling, moving to both Wayne Memorial High School and John Glenn High School when the school merged with the Wayne Westland District in 1986. He remained in guidance and counseling until he retired in 1998.

His community involvement includes a former seat on the Romulus Planning Commission, a current member of the Board of Zoning Appeals, and as an active member of St. Stephens Church.

Mientkiewicz believes the most important issues within the district are student achievement, school taxes, and excessive spending.

"My number one priority is the student," said Mientkiewicz. "We have to make sure that each student receives the proper skills and knowledge to be successful after graduation."

He also believes that there is a need for more development of courses for college bound students, and a need for a more varied educational background to be able to achieve at the college level. Mientkiewicz strongly supports looking at Romulus' elevated school tax situation, however he notes that there isn't a lot the board can do at this moment due to bonds passed by the voters and a need for legislative changes on the hold harmless mills.

"Another issue is the excessive spending that is currently happening in the district," said Mientkiewicz. "Certain salaries are not in alignment with surrounding school districts." He wants to see the board review all budget items to reduce excessive spending and make cuts where needed.

"When it comes down to money, the bottom line is it should go to student programs first, then to other areas," said Mientkiewicz.

Also seeking the four year term is Celeste Roscoe, another lifelong resident of Romulus and graduate of the high school. Roscoe extended her education with adult education courses in mathematics, accounting and computers. She has been married to Robert for 28 years, who is currently an employee of the Department of Public Works in Romulus.

Roscoe is employed in the accounting department at Detroit Automatic Tooling, located in Romulus.

Troy LaPorte

Her community activities and volunteerism include; parent volunteer in children's schools, Girl Scouts and Brownies, Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts of America, Romulus little league baseball, treasurer, Romulus Athletic Club, secretary, Sunday school teacher and Junior Church teacher, and member of the Freewill Baptist Church.

She believes the most important issues facing the district are financial, including the high taxes paid by Romulus homeowners for schools. However, Roscoe notes that a quality education is a priority, and believes that staying informed on proposed changes to Proposal A, and seeing them through would be the best possible solution for tax payer relief within the district.

Roscoe supports the continuation of tutoring, reading and reteaching programs now that the Century 21 grant program is coming to an end. "I want to see that we continue these very important helps for our students," said Roscoe.

She doesn't want to see one student left behind because of lack of teaching aids. "The continuation of our after school programs are a must."

Roscoe believes that each issue within the district needs to be studied and researched before hasty decisions are made or comments made. "My desire as a Romulus School Board member is to be a dedicated and strong voice for our children and citizens, to work hard and effectively with parents, teachers, administrators and other board members."

Roscoe is endorsed by Teamster Union #214 and joint council #43, the Romulus Democratic Club, the Greater Detroit Building and Construction Trades Council and the Romulus School District employees within Local #64.

Troy LaPorte is a 28 year resident of Romulus, and a graduate of Romulus Senior High, class of 1986. LaPorte continued his education at the International Masonry Institute beginning his apprenticeship in 1996. He also completed a course and was certified in welding from Macomb Community College in 1997. He 1998 he was certified by the United States Department of Labor as a journeyman.

A member of the Bricklayers' Local 1 International Union, LaPorte also held membership for 9 years in HERE, the Hotel Employees and Restaurant Employees International Union.

LaPorte is married to wife Judy, and has two children currently attending Romulus schools. His community involvement includes coaching Romulus Little League and Tee Ball, Parade of Lights participant, Romulus Clean Sweep and a parent volunteer in the classroom.

LaPorte supports a reduction in the school tax. "As a taxpayer in Romulus, I would like to be part of the decision making process on how my tax dollars are being used. I would work hand in hand with administrators and taxpayers in the community on reducing our taxes," said LaPorte.

LaPorte supports a focus on technology programs, including a program that would allow parents to access school websites to monitor their child's progress, review lessons, and have open communication with teachers. He would also like to see school board meetings televised, enabling more residents to have knowledge about school operations and academics.

He would like to see preschool or Head Start programs, and all day kindergarten offered to all children. "It is beneficial for children to begin learning at an early age," said LaPorte.

LaPorte is endorsed by Romulus Mayor Alan Lambert and the

Celeste Roscoe

Greater Detroit Building and Construction Trades Council.

Rendell Wooden is also a lifelong resident of Romulus, and a Romulus Senior High graduate. She is employed as an elections clerk within the city of Romulus, having served in her position for 28 years. She is responsible for the administration of all elections within the city.

Wooden believes the most important issue facing the district is the reduction of the Homestead property tax. "To achieve this, I would like to see the burden shifted from the Homestead property owner to commercial business," said Wooden.

Wooden also believes it is important to emphasize student achievement and standards, supporting programs that would help students strive for the highest possible outcome.

"I want to make sure our students have a safe and clean environment in which to learn," said Wooden.

Wooden has a daughter at Romulus Middle School, and believes that her concerns about her daughter's education are the same as other parents within the district. "With strong leadership we can provide a better learning environment for our children. I am committed to this endeavor."

The district will hold elections on June 10, with new board members sworn in at the end of the current term in July.

Senate passes airport bill Diverts money from Romulus parking

By STEFANIE CARANO
MCN Staff Writer

Ray Basham, who represents Romulus and Taylor in the Michigan House of Representatives, is opposing the recent redistribution of funds for the Airport Tax.

On May 15 the state passed bill 4454 in which Romulus stands to lose 2 million of the 7 million dollars received from airport parking tolls. The reason is in order to fund "airport security projects" for every airport in the state of Michigan. Representative Basham calls this "the myth of airport security."

"Airport security is a federal issue, not a state issue," said Basham. In addition to the 2 million taken from the airport parking tax, 15 million will be taken from indigent health care.

239 people currently use the Wayne County Plus Care and HealthChoice administered by the county in Romulus. Most of the funds will go towards improving and extending runways. For Detroit Metro, they will also go towards land acquisition for noise.

Basham believes the reason behind the redistribution of funds is to punish Romulus and ultimately, Basham. Representative Bruce Patterson, who represents Van Buren Township, Belleville, Sumpter Township and the north side of Canton, Basham believes, is responsible for introducing the bill.

Basham claims Patterson, a former Wayne County commissioner, is doing everything in his power to take away funding for Wayne County health services and Romulus. "After I spoke on the House floor against HB 4454, Patterson offered an amendment that stripped the funds away from the city," said Basham.

Among those high school seniors who will receive scholarships during the banquet in their honor are Jeremiah Belton, Courtney Minor, Kurtis Allen II, Cindy Grace, Zandile Chirunga, Shatisha Lampkins and Gerald Fuller. NEWS FROM THE CITY OF WAYNE

Window on Wayne

By RICHARD L. STORY
Wayne Historian

There is a rumor around town that former Westland Police Chief Frayer wants to start up a vintage baseball team in the city. That's a good idea, and it also gave me an idea to write this column.

Do you know when baseball was first played here in Wayne?

Get out your bats and balls and gloves and let me tell you the story.

It was right after the great war between the States, that's when.

The first recorded baseball game by a Wayne Team went into the scorebook on August 10, 1866, in which Wayne played a visiting ball club from the big city, Detroit. Unfortunately no one apparently recorded the score between the two rivals.

Now take a good look at the date - that's one year after the Rebels surrendered to Grant and officially the guns of the Civil War were silenced.

Then, on August 18, 1866, the Wayne ball team played the Dexter Ball Club, and our team, Wayne. Again we have no score between these two teams.

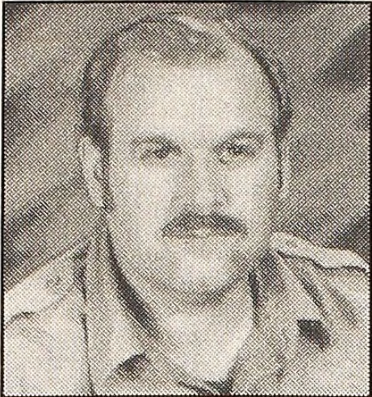

The Wayne Baseball Association (WBA) was organized by 1880, and John C. Stellwagon was named the treasurer, Niran Hawley - no, not Bill Hawley who many believe has been around as long as his ancestors, was selected as Vice President, while Dan Chambers was named secretary of the organization that continues to exist to this day.

The WBA purchased the following to get started: Lumber, at a cost of $9; nine uniforms, at a cost of $20.17, and four bats, at $1.85. (You don't want to even guess how much those items would cost today.)

George Waltz, a local tailor, made the WBA uniforms at the following cost: Pants, $4.50; Caps, $1.35; and Shirts, $2.75.

In 1894, the team's best player apparently was a Mr. Will Curtis. Curtis was a teacher in Fenton, who received a salary of $30 per month. Curtis's salary did not include the train fare to get to Wayne to play baseball. The WBA gave Curtis $3.50 per month to hop on the train to come to the city to compete for the local team.

Also, in 1884, the Wayne Baseball Association charged its players a dues of 25 cents each season.

Richard L. Story

(Now, they ask their players to sell candy to raise the funds to finance the teams and the season). The following players were associated with the WBA in 1894. Some of you folks may remember the names of your athletic forefathers..

The WBA lineup included: Frank Anderson, Phil Chambers, J. C. Stellwagon, John Bunting, W.H. Bell, J. C. Cozadd, Mr. Huyck, T. P. Gorham, Henry Loss, R. W. Francisco, V. E. Hill, C. H. Kingsbury, F. H. Jones and David Zimmerman served as the team physician.

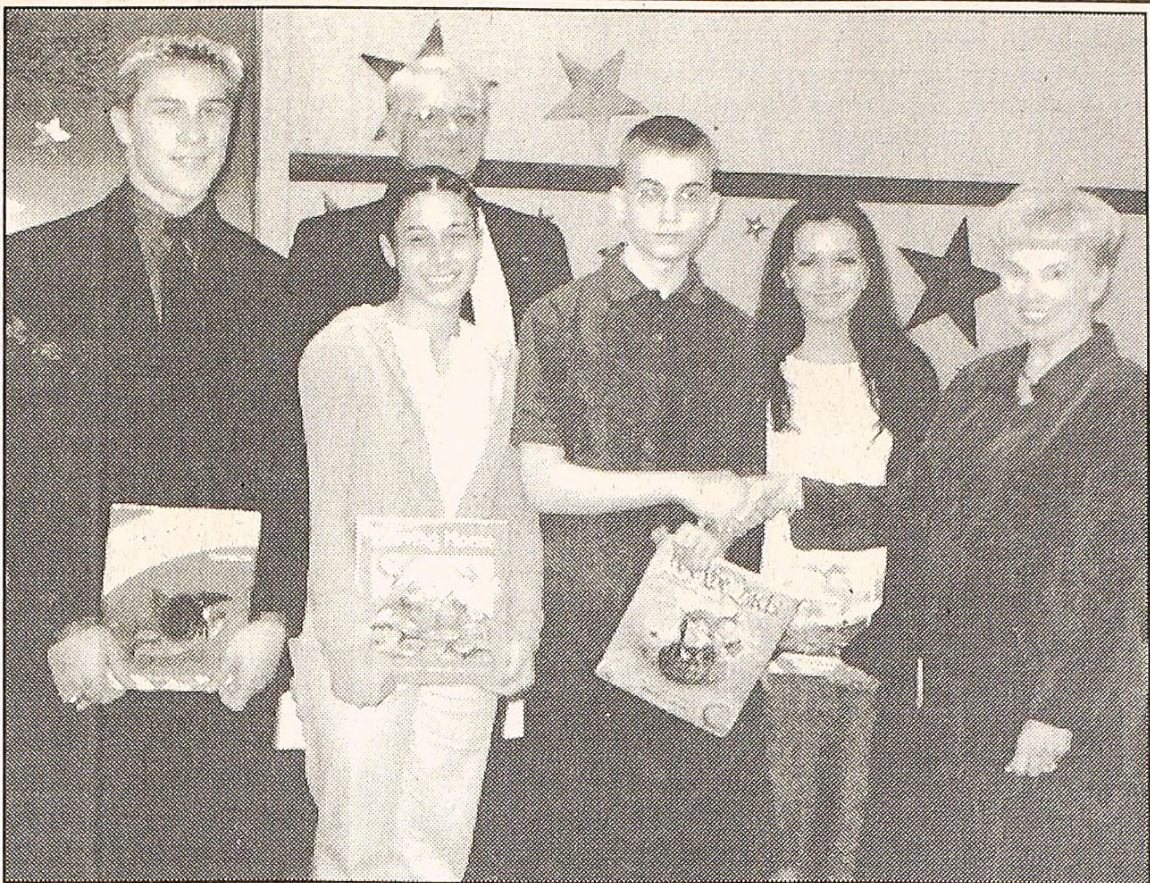

The following communities had organized baseball teams in the late 19th Century, and scheduled games against the hometown Wayne team. The teams included the Detroit Athletic Club, Plymouth Grants, New Boston, Willow, Belleville and Dearborn.

The local team played on a diamond erected at Brush Street, the southside of the Michigan Central Railroad Freight Office, east of Monroe Street, now Wayne Road.

In 1907, the Wayne Baseball Association purchased land in the area of Main Street, south; Michigan Avenue on the north between Williams and Pershing Street. This was the location of Wayne High School, or Westside Junior High School or the Wayne Community Schools' Board of Education office. That address was 3712 Williams Street.

So, the next time you hear the ump shout "Play Ball", please remember that Wayne has been playing baseball for over a century and has a rich history in the sport.

Oh, by the way, congratulations to Coach Tom Wakefield and the Wayne Memorial Zebras for winning the 2002 Mega Conference, White Division Baseball Championship. The title adds to the lore and history of the game in our city.

Civitan scholarship winners

The Wayne Civitan Club last week announced the winners of its annual scholarships at a reception for the honorees staged at the Wayne Public Library. Pictured above with the scholarship recipients are top officials of the club. The honorees and the club officials are Joshua Raub, Nicole Quinn, Ron Kulas, who is presently the president of the Civitans, Matthew Ellsworth, Josette Sanow and Beverly Woodard, of the Civitans. Four $500 scholarships were presented to each of the recipients who will be graduating in June from the Wayne-Westland schools. The Wayne Civitan Club raises funds throughout the year for various projects. Its main fundraising is the Grand Giveaway held annually the first Friday in March. More information about the club may be obtained from President Ron Kulas at 734-729-2579.

Poniatowski awarded police scholarship

A Wayne Memorial senior who plans to pursue a career in criminal justice was named the 2001 recipient of the Wayne Police Scholarship.

Benjamin John Poniatowski, who is an academic and athletic standout at the high school, was named the recipient of the $500 scholarship.

Poniatowski plans to attend Michigan State University this fall.

Officers commended

Four Wayne law enforcement officers were commended by the Van Buren Director of Public Safety Christopher Elg for the officers' role in a raid initiated by Van Buren Township.

Elg thanked Sgt. John Williams, Officers Greg Anderson, Terry Webb, and Kevin Schmidtke for their assistance in the execution of a search warrant in the City of Wayne on May 3, 2002.

"It is this type of cooperative efforts that enhances the ability of law enforcement to provide a safer environment for all communities," Elg stated.

house on Merriman Road. During the raid police seized approximately $1.5 million in cash. The case remains under investigation.

Aeronautics school awards four

The first four graduates from the Michigan Institute of Aeronautics from Romulus High School were awarded certificates of excellence. These students will have to complete another six months of study and training before they will qualify to take the FAA licensing examinations.

Rivers Speaks to Seniors

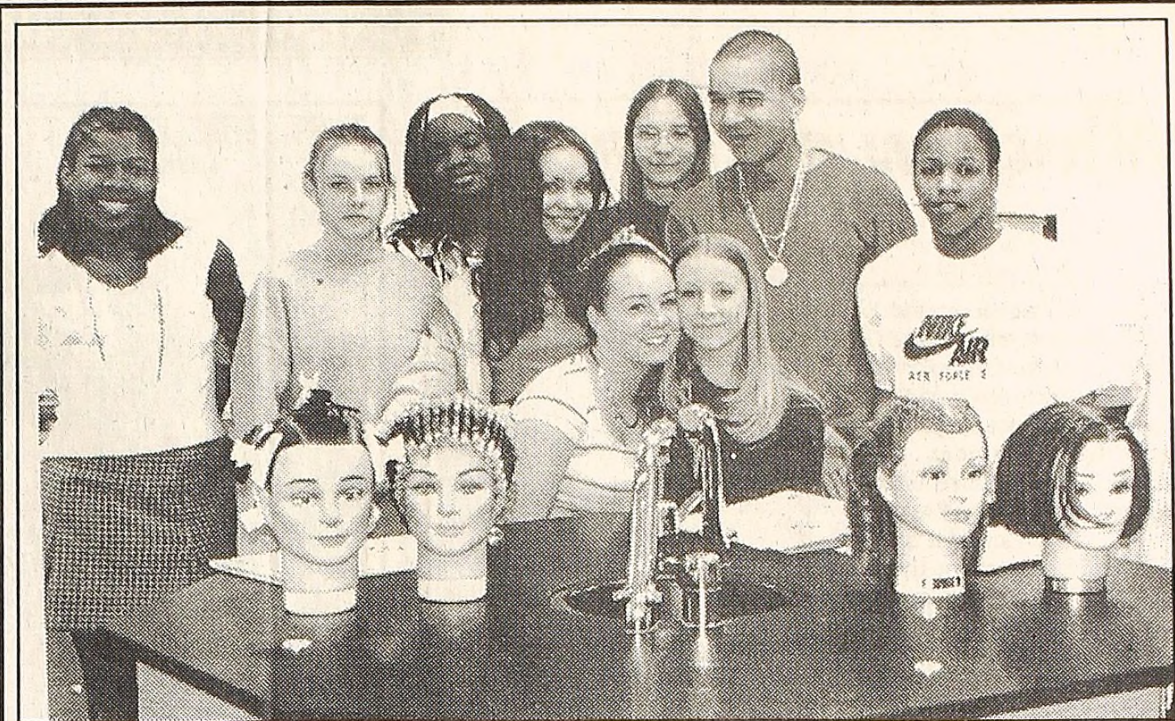

Congresswoman Lynn Rivers was at the Southland Mall in Taylor to speak to seniors about prescription drug care, social security and health care benefits. Rivers represents district 13 which includes Ann Arbor, Van Buren Twp., Belleville, Sumpter Twp., Romulus, Ypsilanti Twp., Superior Twp, Plymouth and Northville.

"It's things I'm working on in Washington," says Rivers. She has met with seniors in her district on a regular basis. She also holds a "coffee hour" every week where she has a comfortable chat with residents.

This August she will be running against Congressman John Dingell to represent district 13 and 15 that will be combined as one. Dingell currently represents 15. With the re-districting that Congress goes through every five years, one congressional seat was eliminated from southeastern Michigan. Now the two representatives from each district (both Democrats) will run against each other.

She looks forward to representing the new district in the same way she has with her current district. "I will enlarge my activities, I'm always out where people can talk to me," says Rivers.

Students attend beauty fair

Romulus plans to revitalize downtown parks

In an effort to renew city parks, the City of Romulus will begin a project to revitalize downtown Romulus' historic park.

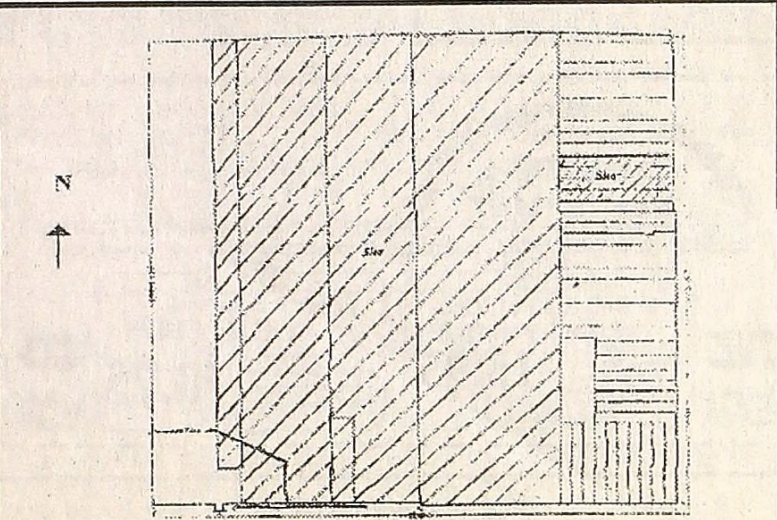

Tim Keyes, Director of Economic Development for Romulus, submitted grant applications to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources for improvements to the park, including the purchase of more land to expand the park boundaries. "We've submitted grant applications that could help us bring renewed life to Romulus parks," said Keyes. "If we're successful with the MDNR grant, we could begin the process of negotiating the acquisition of land." The city would like to purchase land along Goddard Road to be integrated into the existing park property.

The park's proposed new look was designed by Grissam Metz, a Michigan landscape architect and civil engineering firm. Grissam Metz previously designed the landscaping for Founders Park, Heritage Park and the master plan for Greenfield Village.

As part of the expansion, Hunt Street, currently open to north and south traffic between Goddard and Bibbins would be closed to vehicle traffic, allowing the street to become part of the overall look and functionality of the park.

"We want the historical park to become the centerpiece of a renewed downtown district," said Romulus Mayor Alan Lambert. "The park's proposed expansion will become an inviting and comfortable staging area for a variety of year round resident focused events."

Couple endures ‘degradation of the hotsy-totsy people’

Hi everyone,

How nice the physical fitness attitudes have been getting lately, with Relay for Life coming up, nearly 160 people (the last I knew) signing up for the new Weight Watchers program at the Friendship Center, and teenage girls competing in physical fitness activities.

I think it is so great to hear that more emphasis is finally being put on physical fitness. I hope that more food fests and pie-eating contests are replaced with these true activities. Now, we need to give people incentives for losing weight and for also caring about general health.

Being able to date a good-looking guy or gal, wearing a new outfit for a dance, getting into that new bathing suit, lowering your blood pressure, dumping the thyroid medication, being able to get around without riding in a golf cart, being able to run, jump, and play are incentives. Not to mention playing tug-of-war, biking, hiking, and all kinds of Spring and Summer fun.

I recently read about kids around here going on a nature hike. Good going!

However, I wanted to share with you a major complaint. First, I must say that I was against the further destruction of our wetlands, especially for the building of Warren Road's Restaurant Row.

But, on one of those unseasonably warm days in March, Curt and I went on a bike hike and ended up passing the new Ruby Tuesday's on the row. We decided to stop for a breather and to have coffee. No bike racks out front was the first shocker. I wondered also how the handicapped get through the front door. Did I miss something? Bike racks and handicapped ramps should be part of the plans of any building.

Anyway, after we were forced to lock up our bikes to a sign in front, in dirt next to speeding traffic, we then endured the degradation of the hotsy-totsy people storming from the back parking lot, like pigs to slop, down both sides of the building, to the front door, culminating with the laughter directed at our bikes.

Who were these creeps? I wondered. I dunno, some more of those judgmental, unhealthy, family values people, I guess.

Knowing that we are not inferior people, we held our heads up high and continued on, finally making it to the alcove. I kept wondering what was wrong with these lazy people who couldn't get their butts on a bike if their lives depended upon it. The person who bikes, not the person who refuses to bike, should be commended.

In the alcove, we were greeted by some air-head greeter, sitting on a barstool, passing out menus. Still trying to keep an open mind about this offensive establishment, I told her that we were on a bike trip and just stopped in for a quick cup of coffee.

"Coffee?" she asked, as if it were a new word.

"Yes, coffee."

Looking at a polished tile floor, I realized that it didn't look like the kind of place that will let you have just coffee, so I asked if there was a counter, at least, hoping that she understood this whole coffee concept. I also asked if there was a no-smoking section. I was told no.

She tried to cut a deal with us, suggesting that we might be able to have coffee in the bar.

"So what you're saying is that we may have coffee if we hang out with the smoking drunks in a dimly-lit bar," I said.

"Well, yow," she said.

Curt asked me if I wanted to reconsider.

"Are you kidding?" I said. "Sit in darkness, in alcohol, and in airborne carcinogens, as well? Not to mention the plastic people."

When I have coffee, I want to sit near a well-lit window, in a booth, watching traffic, involved in a non-drinking, non-carcinogenic conversation, perhaps reading a newspaper, or greeting people.

The bar? What a laugh.

So, having not made it into the actual restaurant, we backed up, walked back out into the heat, and unlocked our bikes, as I wondered if this was a preview of what to expect with the other restaurants that will soon be built.

See ya,
Angela Frances Todd

Seniors thrown out for ‘financial gain’

To the editor:

One more verse has been added to the song, "The rich are getting richer and the poor still are still poor."

Witness the shocker of Sheldon Place seniors being displaced, a polite word for thrown out.

It's said the building is not safe any more. Or is this a hoax to get rid of the seniors so the landlord can sell this property at market price as happened a few years ago to a complex in Canton?

Nothing was said about it then and nothing will be done for two years.

Why is this being allowed to happens? Is there no government money from HUD behind this?

Something is very wrong that 100 may be evacuated so the units can be priced higher than low-level renters can afford. Purely for financial gain.

They ask for public help and donations when this should be provided by the government or Lansing.

If our esteemed Supervisor Thomas Yack can suggest building a larger swimming pool, which was done, and plan to build two johns in parks for $500,000 each, why can't he do something about this unfair mess.

Who is responsible for this? State government or Canton Township?

Sincerely,
Jeffrey Katz

Britz is not a racist

To the editor:

The article you wrote on my brother made him out to look like it was a hate crime.

First you need to get your facts straight on the individual. My brother Tim Britz suffers from bi-polar schizophrenia.

As some of the citizens of Romulus can attest, he is not that bad person you made him out to be. But ever since the cutbacks from our dear beloved John Engler, the guy, we had to make do with the limited resources we have. So at times it puts an extra burden on his siblings to take care of him plus our own family.

I know you need to sell your paper, which at times is good reading material, but you also have to check out the backgrounds of the individual, before you categorize him as a common criminal without coming across looking like the National Enquirer

Go COPS!

To the editor:

As a member of the community for over 30 years, I would like to urge voters to vote "Yes" on June 4 to support our Wayne Police Department in gaining a new facility.

I feel a new police station is needed. By taking a tour of the current facility, it becomes clear that the existing station is out dated both in size and technology.

Being a member of the Wayne-Westland Board of Education has given me a better understanding of the working relationship between the schools, community, and our police department.

I am very proud of the DARE programs that are ongoing by the Wayne Police Department in our elementary schools.

I believe that the Wayne Police Department needs a new facility with improved technology to be able to further continue their protection of our citizens.

Please vote "Yes" on June 4th for Construction of Our Police Station (COPS).

Judd's grand slam seals title for Wayne

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Bottom-of-the 7th rally stuns Kennedy

There was only one team this season in the Mega-White that had beaten Wayne Memorial on the baseball diamond, and that team was Taylor Kennedy.

And Kennedy not only defeated the Zebras, but they had really embarrassed Coach Tom Wakefield's ball club the first time around. The downriver power shut the Zebras out, 12-0.

Last week, when the two Mega-White opponents rekindled their rivalry at Kennedy, Kennedy again had the upper hand and was on the verge of clinching the 2002 championship. Kennedy starter Pate Slater was one out away from picking up the victory that would do it for the conference year.

He had a 3-2 lead going into the top of the seventh inning and appeared to be in control of his destiny.

Slater struck out the first man he faced, so Wakefield decided to have Tom Tyler pinch hit. Good move. Tyler laced one into the outfield for a base hit. Then, Mark Townsend kept the rally alive. He also singled, putting runners on first and second. The next man up, Ryan Ybarra grounded to shortstop, who quickly tagged Tyler for the second out.

Now, with two away, Slater walked Greg Laws to load the bases.

The stage was set for the climactic finish, that every batter - prep or pro - dreams of. And here's the denouncement of the play:

Slater threw three consecutive balls to Judd before he slid a curveball passed him for the first strike. Then, Judd hammered Slater's fifth pitch down the third base line, inches into foul territory. The sixth pitch again Judd hit solidly, but the ball again sailed into foul territory.

With the count now at 3-2, and the conference title on the line, what was Coach Wakefield thinking?

"To tell you the truth, as I have seen it happen so many times, I thought Slater was going to put one past him for the third out."

And what was Judd thinking?

What every ball player in the same situation - get a base hit and drive in some runs.

Slater unleashed a fastball right down the middle and Judd saw it coming and put his bat into it, sending it into outer orbit and over the left-field fence as pandemonium broke out in the Wayne dugout. The 6-3 victory gave Wayne the title outright. It will be the last Mega-White Conference baseball title for the winners who are scheduled to play in the Western Lakes Conference a year from now.

"The kids went wild. They had decided they weren't going to let Kennedy get away a second time," Wakefield later said. "After that 12-0 debacle, they wanted this one so badly. Give them a lot of credit. They refused to quit."

Kennedy had a 2-1 lead after two, while Wayne tied it in the third. Winning pitcher Bob Bailey then gave up a run in the bottom of the sixth, before Judd's first-ever grand slam settled the issue.

Bailey, a senior righthander, gave up five hits, struck out 3 and walked one in the victory. Laws and Townsend each had a pair of singles off of Slater.

Wayne also posted a 5-2 victory over Carlson and a 3-0 shutout over Wyandotte to finish with a 11-1 Mega-White Conference record.

"It was one of our goals this year to win the league," said Wakefield. See JUDD, page B-2

Glenn shares Lakes title

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Although they didn't get an opportunity to play for the Western Lakes Conference baseball title because of a tie-breaker rule, Coach Todd Duffield and the Westland John Glenn Rockets did manage to salvage a share of the Lakes Division title.

"The tie-breaker rule eliminated us from the finals," said Duffield, whose ball club finished the regular season with a 23-7 overall record.

Glenn was 13-4 in the conference and 7-3 in the Lakes Division. Also finishing 7-3 were Livonia Stevenson and Farmington, and Farmington received the nod over their two Lakes teams to play Harrison in the conference finals. Harrison "mercied" its rival to capture the 2002 championship.

The next challenge for Glenn is the district playoffs which will get underway Tuesday at Glenn (Wayne plays Livonia Franklin in a qualifying game at Glenn). The Westlanders join the action on Saturday, June 1, when they square off with Livonia Churchill at 12:30 p.m. The winner plays the survivor of the upper bracket (Wayne, Franklin, and Garden City) for the district title. The champ will represent the district at the Lincoln Park regional.

Glenn scored three runs in the bottom of the seventh to pull out an 8-7 victory over Plymouth-Canton last week. Reliever Julian Fraser, who pitched the sixth and seventh inning, received the win.

Fraser replaced starter Brandon Ajlouny who worked the first five innings, gave up only one run, five of 11 hits, struck out one, and walked one before Duffield removed him because of an ailing arm.

Fraser failed to protect a 5-1 lead as Canton came back, thanks to solid hitting supplied by Mike Tomassaitis, Andy Howald, Nick Musselman, Matt Staley, and Chris Pirch.

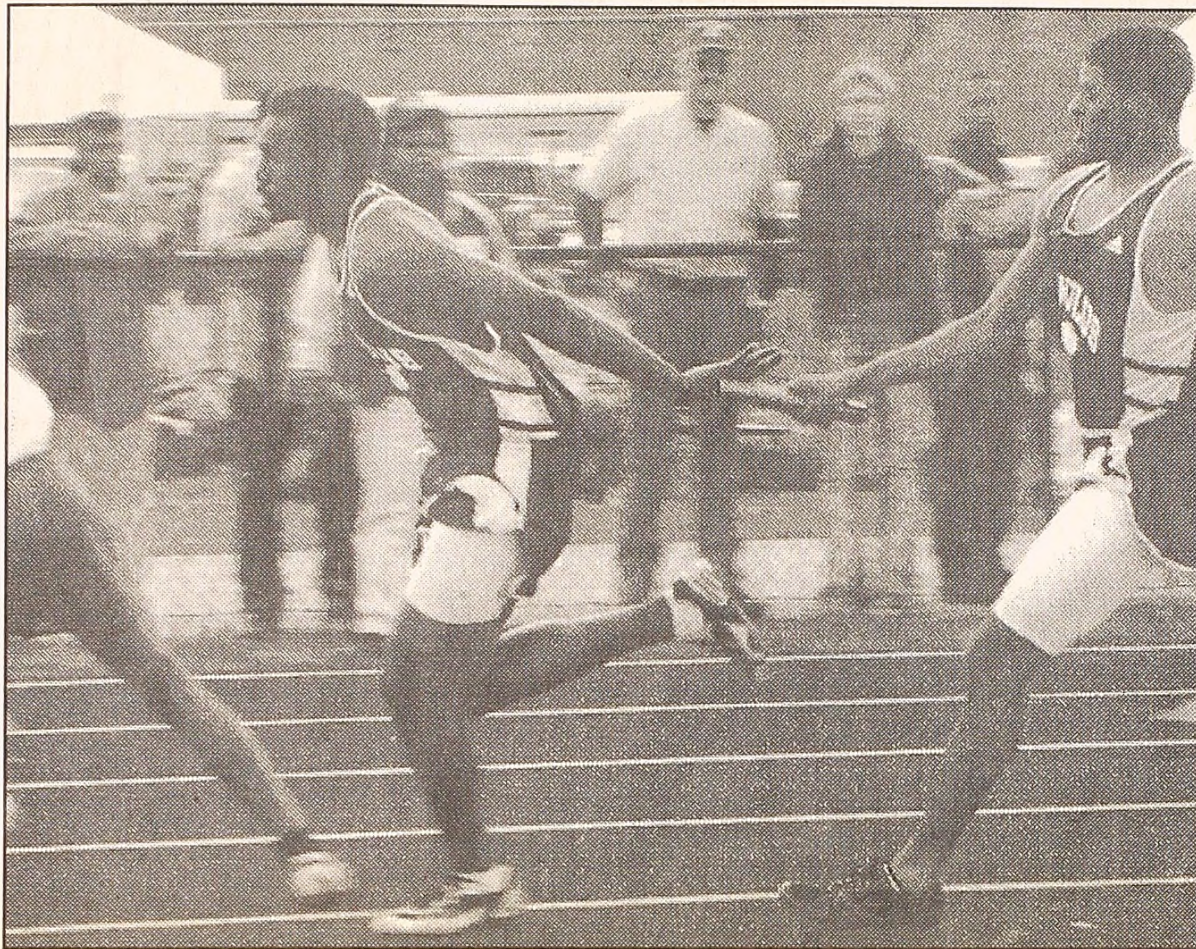

Canton tied the score, then went ahead, by one in the seventh.

The Chiefs sent starter Kyle McDevitt to the mound in hopes of avenging a first-round loss, and McDevitt pitched six full innings, gave up 10 hits and five runs before Coach Scott Dickey replaced him with Nick Musselman. Musselman was the loser.

Howald got three of the Chiefs' 11 hits. He had a double and a pair of singles and also drove in three runs. Musselman, Staley, and Pirch each has two singles.

Ajlouny continued his hitting streak as he tripled, collected two singles, also walked and drove in and scored one run. Will Massey also carded a pair of singles, and Kyle Rutkowski chipped in with a pair of singles and a double and an RBI.

Kennedy and North Farmington's Justin Prinstein were locked in a pitching duel for nine innings before the Westlanders won it with the only run of the game. Craig Lewis scored the winning run when he tagged Prinstein for a double, then stole second and moved to third on an infield error. Duffield then replaced Lewis with a courtesy runner, Mark Rodriguez, who scored when Joe Cichowski belted a game-winning single.

Searcy and Long were key links in Coach Norb Glover's Eagles' domination of the relays at the 2002 Mega-White Division championships. Romulus runs 2nd-best in White Division

Our relays took all four golds, the kids ran well. Woodhaven just had an outstanding team this year.

Norb Glover
Romulus Coach

Despite an unprecedented sweep in the relays, and winning individual performances by Charles Searcy and Cordell Smith, Romulus finished second-best at the annual Mega Conference, White Division Track & Field Championships.

Romulus hosted the championships, staged on Tuesday under near-perfect weather conditions.

"Our relays took all four golds," said Romulus coach Norb Glover. "The kids ran well. Woodhaven just had an outstanding team this year."

With more than 30 points to spar, Woodhaven captured the 2002 Mega-White team championship with 180 points. Romulus was awarded the runners-up trophy. The Eagles garnered 131 points, while Trenton finished in third place with 125.

Glover's 400-meter relay team continued its momentum that had propelled it a week earlier to a regional gold. With Chris Middlebrook, Charles Searcy, Anson Long, and Fred Harbor, the Eagles repeated their gold performance. The winning time was 43.7. The foursome also will compete for the state title on Saturday, June 1.

Middlebrook, Searcy, Long, and Harbor also were awarded a gold for their 1:31 effort in the 880-meter relay competition.

Romulus picked up the first-place trophy for the 1,600-meter relay thanks to Adrian Simmons, Calvin Valentine, Jeremiah Hudson, and Derrek Robinson who completed the event in 3:31.4. Glover's 3,200-meter relay team also set the standard for the event this season in the division.

With Taumayne Anderson, Jason Gibson, Long, and Harbor, the Eagles crossed the finish line first in 8:41.

Searcy also was crowned the best sprinter in the 200-meter dash. He won the gold with a 22.0 effort.

Romulus' Derrek Robinson was awarded a silver medal in the high jump competition after he cleared six-feet. Middlebrook earned a bronze for his 11.4 run in the 100-meter.

In the meantime, Monroe won the Mega Conference Red Division team title by the narrowest of margins, defeating newcomer, Dearborn Edsel Ford, by one point, 156.5 to 155.5. Edsel was elevated to the Red Division after winning back-to-back Blue Division championships.

Belleville finished in third place (118), followed by Fordson (74), Dearborn (43), Wyandotte (43) and Wayne (36.5).

Wayne did receive another exceptional performance from its sophomore, T. J. Dillard who won the gold in the 200-meter dash. Facing some of the best sprinters in the area, T. J. edged Monroe's Derek Huntley at the wire for the victory. The Wayne soph's time was posted at 22.2, while Huntley's was 22.5.

Getting ready for the transition in the 1,600-meter relay is Derrek Robinson, who is poised to receive the baton from speedster Jeremiah Hudson. Robinson and Hudson teamed up with Adrian Simmons and Calvin Valentine to win the gold for the event. The Eagles swept all four relay events at the Mega-White Championships held at Romulus High. Canton coach Demsick resigns

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

One of the most dynamic high school wrestling coaches in the area has stepped down.

Plymouth - Canton Head Wrestling Coach John Demsick announced this week that he has resigned after serving as head coach for four seasons.

Demsick is credited with giving the program "the spark that caught fire" in his team and his wrestlers.

"If you compare where the program was when coach Demsick took over and where it is now, you would have to say we were in the dessert and he guided the program to the mountain top," said Sue Heinzman, Canton High's athletic director.

Pre-Demsick Chiefs struggled for years attempting to avoid the conference cellar. In his inaugural year as head coach, Demsick managed to coach the Chiefs to a respectable 6-4 season. The team also won an invitational trophy, its first since the 1987 season.

Now, after a 56-19 record in four

Justin Smith

Smith goes to Switzerland

A 17-year-old Romulus High basketball standout will receive an opportunity to shoot hoops on the European continent this summer and play against his peers from a wide range of countries.

Justin Smith, a junior, was selected as a "People to People" Sports Ambassador to represent the United States at the 2002 Switzerland Junior Basketball Invitational.

The invitational will be conducted on July 26 through Aug. 5 in Zofingen.

With tremendous potential, Smith will join other players for the event in France to train for the competition. Players representing Germany, Austria, Switzerland, and the United States are expected to make up the teams that will compete.

Justin was a member of the Romulus High School team last season and is presently playing AAU basketball in Romulus. His parents are Steven Smith and Priscilla Jordan, and his stepfather is Calvin Williams; all are residents of Romulus.

Candidates are urged to continue to practice the sport and maintain a high level of physical conditioning to prepare for the upcoming competition.

Wayne's Amber Henn makes golf history

Wayne's Amber Henn, who led her team throughout the 2002 campaign, may not have known it at the time but when she finished third at the state-regionals last week she also made her way into Wayne Memorial's sports history book.

Henn shot a 91 and finished third in the field at the regional playoffs staged at Pinewood in Walled Lake. Her third place finish qualified her for the state championship as an individual player, an achievement never before accomplished by any female golfer at the school.

Henn becomes the first female golfer in Wayne Memorial's history to ever qualify for the Michigan High School Athletic Association's state finals. The finals will be staged on May 31 and June 1. The lowest five scorers at regionals move on to the finals.

However, the Zebras as a team did not play to their potential at Pinewood.

Henn shot a 91, which gave her the third place overall medal. Team-

Readers invited to pick top players

With the news of the district playoffs coming up, can the 2002 Michigan Community Newspapers' All-Area Baseball Team be far behind?

The MCN Sports Staff is seeking reader input on which players should be named to the 35th annual All-Area High School team. Players qualify if they played varsity baseball for any of the following schools covered by MCN sports: Westland

John Glenn, Wayne Memorial, Plymouth-Canton, Plymouth-Salem, Belleville, Romulus, Inkster and Dearborn Heights Robichaud.

And, while you're at it, who do you believe deserves to be named as the "Coach of the Year?"

To name a candidate, call MCN Staff Writer Tom Mooradian at 734-729-4000, or "fax" information about your All-Area candidate to 734-729-6088.

Judd

whose 2001 ball club shared the divisional title.

"Now we can focus on the (district) playoffs," Wakefield said.

The luck of the draw has the Zebras meeting Livonia Franklin in a pre-district game scheduled for 4 p.m. Tuesday (May 28) at Westland John Glenn. The winner of the Wayne-Franklin game will advance to the Saturday, June 1, district tournament, again at Glenn. The 10 a.m. game will pit Garden City against the winner of the Wayne-Franklin game.

At 12:30 p.m. host Glenn takes on Livonia Churchill.

The championship at Westland John Glenn will be decided at 3:30 p.m.

Wayne's James Barter continued his phenomenal pitching performance as he struck out six, walked none and gave up six in blanking Wyandotte, 3-0, last week. The senior southpaw is 6-1 on the year.

Ybarra, who had a 2 for 3 day, blasted a two-run homer in the fifth with Joel Doyen aboard. Doyen had a couple of leadoff doubles in this game. Barter, who has allowed only six earned runs in 40 innings on the mound, helped his own cause with two singles in three at-bats.

Ybarra went the distance against Carlson as the senior righthander struck out seven, walked three and gave up five hits in the 5-2 triumph.

Tom Collop doubled and singled and also had an RBI, while Judd went 2 for 4 with an RBI and Brent Newsted latched on to two singles and 2 RBIs.

Demsick

last year and it's time for me to go.

"Most people don't realize it but I also coached soccer in Ann Arbor. It really comes down to two reasons for me to resign at this juncture.

"First, health. I love being at the wrestling tournaments with the wrestlers, but I've been having serious migraine problems from all the whistles in the gym for 12 hours on a Saturday. Second, my family. With 12 more years to teach, added to the 25 years I've already taught, and the fact that I'm 49 years old, I just can't wait 12 years to start spending more time with my wife. Also, I've found that responsibilities don't end as a father when your sons graduate from high school."

Demsick has four sons, three of whom will be in college next year, with one still in high school.

Demsick will remain within the Plymouth-Canton Community School District as an educator. He teaches physical education. The veteran coach says he hoped that his two capable assistants will remain with the program.

Jay Helm, an assistant coach, offered the following: "I wish we could have him (Demsick) for another year. He's put so much work into this program."

Amber

mate Cindy Diehl finished with a 115, while Lindsay Fallow also carded a 155.

Wayne also received a 122 from Becky Knight and Ashley Laws toured the course with a 123.

The scores are the highest of the season for Wayne, which wrapped up the Mega-Red a week ago runners-up to conference champ, Monroe.

Eagles

Dillard also came away with a silver medal in the 100-meter. He coasted to a 11.1 and lost the gold to a Monroe sprinter.

Carter picked Antoine

Austin, Darrian Miller, Dillard, and Henry Love for the 400-meter relay, and the Wayne four-some returned home with the bronze. The Zebras were clocked in 44.6.

"Unfortunately our 800-meter relay team, which I thought could have won a medal, had problems during an exchange," said Carter later. "That cost us a medal."

The veteran Wayne coach said he was "very proud" of his team. "The kids worked hard, and many of them will be returning next year when I feel we will have a competitive team."

Future track stars

Romulus Community Schools hosted their annual Track & Field Championships and presented medals to the stars of the future. Among those who walked off the field of competition with medals are Stephanie Moran, (from left) representing Hale Creek, who placed first in the softball throw; Donzell Carter, from Merriman, who captured the gold for the 50-meter dash; Alisa Carter, of Wick School, who was second in the softball throw; Cordero Jones, of Cory School, who leaped to a gold in the long jump and also earned a bronze medal for his performance in the 50-meter dash; James Mattson, of Bart, who is a miler, and Carlos Joshua, Romulus Elementary, a third-place finisher in the long jump.

Ex-pros to shoot hoops for kids

Some of the icons of the past professional basketball world will mix it up on the hardwood May 31 in Inkster to raise funds for Inkster High School.

Among the greats who will be showing how the game is played - or was played - are the Hardy Boys (Barry Hardy is in the lineup of Harlem Globetrotters), Victor Deihl, the first American to play in an European League, and others, such as Pierre Hudson, Joe Ballard and Tyrone Orr.

Two games are scheduled: one between the Inkster Old Timers - Deihl, Chuck Payne and Eartha Faust - will take on the Detroit Old Timers - Chet Cash, Hudson and Mike Newman at 5:30 p.m. at the Booker T. Dozier Recreation Center, on Middlebelt Road, just north of Michigan Avenue.

In a 7 p.m. match up at the recreation center, the Inkster Alumni, led by Orr, the Hardy Brothers and James Outlaw will clash with the Robichaud Alumni which will feature former stars at Joe Ballard, Bo Squeakie and Mike Aaron.

The audience will also be introduced to the Inkster High's sensational girls basketball team which strung together 40-plus victories before losing in the playoffs. The members of the Inkster High's Boys' District Championship team also will be on hand.

Stewart seeks 17th District House seat

Republican lawmaker faces a traditional Democratic Wayne

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

One legislator who wasted little time in informing local voters that he is interested in representing them in the state House of Representatives is incumbent John Stewart.

Stewart, a Republican from Plymouth, announced that he is seeking the House seat in the redrawn 17th District which now includes the cities of Wayne, Plymouth, and Northville, along with Canton, Northville, and Plymouth townships.

"I've helped make great strides for Michigan in education, environmental protection and in providing support for local business," said Stewart, in announcing his candidacy. "That's why I'm seeking another term as State Representative - to continue the work that I've already begun."

Stewart, a freshman Representative who was recently named

"Legislator of the Year" by the Small Business Association of Michigan (SBAM) has officially filed for re-election.

Among some of the accomplishments he lists during his first legislative term include defending cuts in the Single Business Tax and the Personal Income Tax, as well as securing 21 grants from the Michigan Economic Development Corporation (MEDC) for job training and businesses in Plymouth and Northville.

"John Stewart is pro-community, pro-business and one of the best informed of the new legislators. You couldn't have more effective representation in Lansing," says Doug Rothwell, executive director of the Michigan Economic Development Corporation.

On Stewart's approach toward education policy, Dr. Samuel Kirkpatrick, President of Eastern Michigan University, notes: "There isn't a harder working State Representative in Lansing on behalf of education than Representative Stewart."

Stewart serves on the powerful House Appropriations Committee and is Vice Chairman of the Judiciary Committee. He says he has maintained a 100 percent attendance record.

A resident of Plymouth Township and a former Plymouth Township trustee, Stewart has been a member of the Chamber of Commerce for more than 18 years. He and his wife, Beth, have two daughters.

"I've helped make great strides for Michigan in education, environmental protection and in providing support for local business."

The officers are Edythe Stephens, president; Lester Duckett, vice president; LaVerne Celmo, secretary; Robert Smith treasurer, and Pauline Darnell, assistant treasurer. New committee members for the Kitchen Committee, Dining Room Committee and 'Can't Get Along Without You' Committee, pictured at right, also were recognized. Fate of new Wayne police facility to be decided by voters Tuesday

MCN Staff Writer

The fate of the proposed new City of Wayne police building will be decided Tuesday when voters go to the polls.

More than 30 percent of the registered 11,972 voters are expected to vote on the issue of whether the city should construct a new police facility.

City and police officials say that the present facility is nearly 50-years old, doesn't have adequate space to house personnel or new technology and have asked citizens to build a new building.

The police building, if approved, would be built on a site owned by the city on Howe Road, just south of Michigan Avenue.

There is no expressed or public opposition to the proposal.

"This is not only a police building, this is a people's building," said Police Chief Mike Sumeracki.

"I'm looking for approximately 30 percent of the registered voters to cast their ballots on Tuesday"

Mary Carney
City Clerk

"We're urging our voters to support their police officers and their department by voting 'yes' on this proposal."

City Clerk Mary Carney noted there has been a considerable amount of interest expressed about the upcoming election. She pointed out that 10 percent of the eligible voters have already secured absentee ballots.

"I'm looking for approximately 30 percent of the registered voters to cast their ballots on Tuesday," said Carney.

The proposal that voters will find on the ballot Tuesday reads as follows: "Shall the City of Wayne amend section 10.1 of the City Charter to allow the City Council to assess up to one mill for twenty-five years commencing on July 1, 2003, for the construction and maintenance of a new police building?"

The polls will open at 7 a.m. and close at 8 p.m.

Ham puts special ed eggs in election basket

By BRENDA GRACIN
MCN Special Writer

Seeking a four-year term on the Plymouth Canton Board of Education, Richard Ham-Kucharski, age 30, believes his special education experience will be a plus for his candidacy.

Ham-Kucharski has a son, Alex, with autism and a severe hearing loss in one ear. Because of his involvement in his son's education, Ham-Kucharski has acquired knowledge about the district's, state's, and federal government's special education programs.

A resident of Canton, Ham-Kucharski graduated from Plymouth-Salem High School, and has an Eastern Michigan B. Sc. in economics.

Employed by EDS, he is a co-founder of the Michigan Autism Partnership.

He coordinates information for parents and professionals who live with autistic individuals.

He is also the co-chair for the countywide Act 18 millage campaign in the Plymouth-Canton district, which will increase intermediate school district taxes 1.5 mills.

He believes the most important issues facing the district are student achievement, funding and resources and teamwork.

"Although district students have shown above average achievement on many indicators, such as MEAP, ACT and SAT test scores, and our graduation rates are above the state average, we still show signs of potential pitfalls to come," he said. "We need to ensure that every student can reach his or her maximum achievement according to their own potential."

Understanding that every student will not be an A student, he strongly believes that each student should be "fully functional within the community."

He will lobby for more teacher training, tools, and resources catered to students' "learning methods."

Ham-Kucharski will campaign for more grant money, including corporate, to provide alternative funding, and to provide more technology in the schools and for training the staff to how to effectively use it.

If elected, he will lobby at the state and federal levels to increase general school funding and funding for targeted programs, such as special education, student counseling, talented and gifted programs, and so on.

"I believe I have the most global exposure to such resources, because of the nature of my work," he said.

Finally, he strongly supports teamwork.

"I want open, honest communication with everyone in the community," he said. "This means staff, administration, the board and families."

He believes there is a lot of communicating going on, but very little listening.

"Every parent has their own agenda, and, believe it or not, that is the agenda of the board, the teachers and the administration," he said.

Nelson runs on resume

Robert Nelson, of Canton, is running more on his resume and community service than on issues.

President of Airflow Sciences Corporation, an engineering consulting firm, he has an information technologies background. He has a M. Sc. in mathematics from Cornell University, and a B. Sc. with honors in mathematics from the University of Michigan.

Community activities include TAG Advisory Council, superintendent selection team, and Plymouth Oratorio Society member.

"I think this is a great district so I don't have a lot of concerns with the delivery of education," he said.

As a scholar turned business man, he believes he has the skills and experience to handle budgets and planning.

Pumped for issues, he said he had three: "kids, kids, kids."

Pumped some more he said that the district must plan five years out for financial stability.

"Right now, we are facing next year's budget deadline without knowing the cost of the largest detail, our teachers' contract, which is not settled," he said.

To avoid the same uncertainty in the future, he favors motivating the superintendent to give the board better and more timely budgeting information.

An edge is needed to work around what he perceives as the district's relative lack of state funds to train teachers.

"We have less income than our competitors," he said. "We need to work with our teacher organizations to provide teachers with the skills and tools they need to do their jobs."

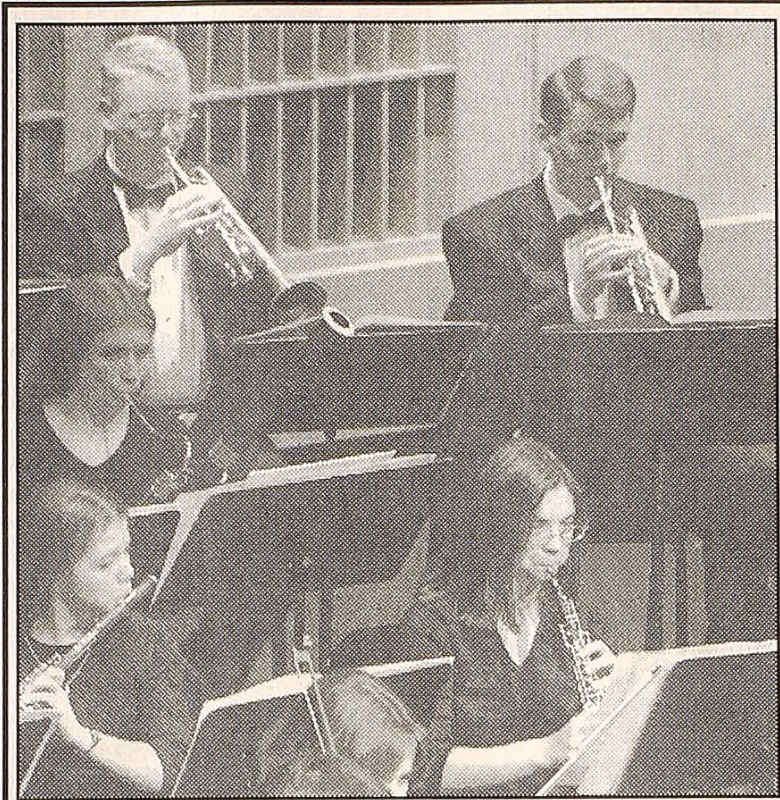

To bring some money into the district, he's campaigning for passage of the countywide millage on Aug. 6.

He favors building new schools or updating the old ones, which would require a construction bond millage to finance.

"We're a growing district with old buildings," he said.

He also wants to redesign the district's Web site.

"We could join the 1990s and do a better job with our Web site," he said, by bringing the kids into the process like on a yearbook.

Classic Performance

The Brigham Young University Chamber Orchestra recently played Wayne Memorial High School. Sponsored by the school's Band Boosters, orchestra members slept and dined at residents' homes. Hosts even sent the orchestra members off on the rest of their nationwide tour with box lunches. At the performance, Memorial band and orchestra students ushered while the orchestra played Bizet, Rossini, and Beethoven.

Roscoe earns Eagle badge

Philip Roscoe, a sophomore at Romulus High School, was recently awarded the highly coveted Boy Scout Eagle badge in a special ceremony held at the high school. His scoutmaster, Tom Witherow of Troop #872, noted that fewer than 1 in 100 achieve scout's ultimate honor.

Special proclamations were delivered by Betty Lenossi, the Secretary of the Board of Education, Herb Buckley, Romulus Recreation Director, and Mark Lewkowicz, who read several congratulatory commendations from local civic organizations and leaders.

The extensive ceremony featured many local and regional scout officials who led Roscoe through the oath, challenge and accolade portions of the program. His parents, Celeste and Robert Roscoe honored Philip with a dinner in the school cafeteria after the ceremonies.

Many area and regional boy scouts and scout leaders honored Philip Roscoe (first row center) with his Eagle scouting badge.

Scooby Doo and his friends, The Powerpuff Girls, and Fred Flintstone came to Romulus Middle School last Thursday in an event sponsored by the Romulus Parks and Recreation Department and area businesses.

The Cartoon Network Smash Tennis Tour was a hit with Romulus students, bringing more than 700 kids from all Romulus elementary schools, both public and private to the day long event.

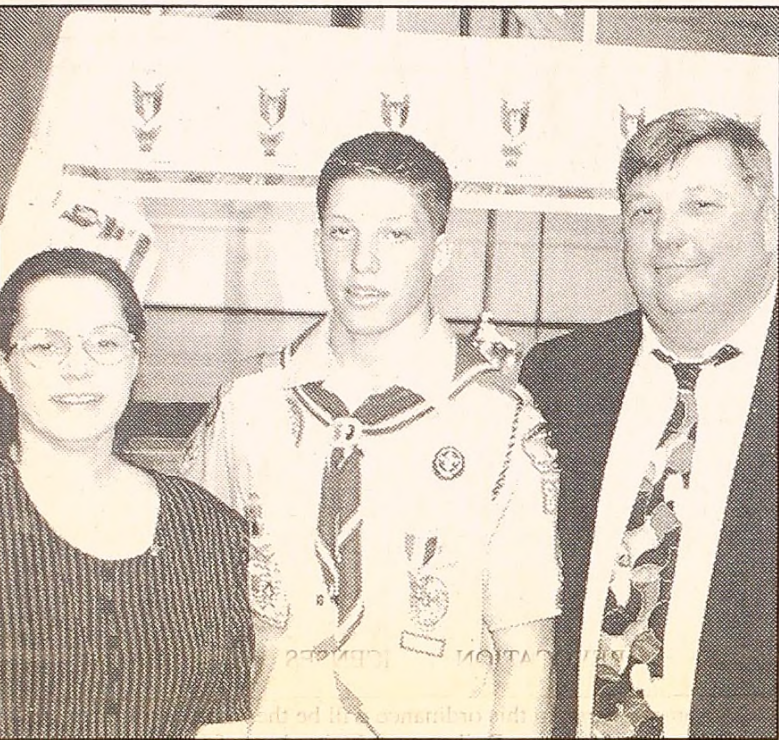

Set up on the grounds of Romulus Middle School, the students were able to participate in several events with Scooby, and other Cartoon Network stars to learn how to play tennis.

Children took part in events such as Scooby Snack Attack, the Powerpuff Girls Super Villain Slam, and the Jetson's Galactic Planet Smash.

Herbert Buckley, Director of Romulus Parks and Recreation coordinated the event, along with help of staff and area businesses. Doubletree Hotels provided children with cookies, Alps Hotels provided juice boxes, and Burger King supplied burgers and french fries to the volunteers and staff that worked the event.

"We are working on a lot of different programs right now, and are in the process of providing more for children," said Buckley. "A lot of prayer went into this event this morning, we are very pleased with the turnout." Buckley hopes to have many more events like the Cartoon Network tour, and believes that by getting more community volunteers and businesses involved, they will be successful.

Solomon seeks Romulus council's backing in Metro airport lawsuit

Romulus city officials were able to address city problems with Metro Airport and the Wayne County Commission at a recent council meeting attended by County Chairman Ricardo Solomon. Solomon thanked the council for opposing the Metro/Willow Run Airport Authority and the conceptual Pinnacle Aeropark Authority.

He also came to discuss the county commission's lawsuit against the state. The commission would like to keep control over the airport and to prevent the authority, appointed by Governor John Engler and County Executive Ed McNamarara from taking over.

Solomon invited the City of Romulus to join the commission in their lawsuit but did not receive a response from the council on the matter. According to the county chairman, the next court date for the airport authority takeover is May 14.

Solomon, who is running for Wayne County Executive, told city officials he needed their help when it came to issues concerning Romulus. Once again, he stated his opposition to Governor John Engler and County Executive Ed McNamara's decision to form an airport authority.

"We believe the takeover was unconstitutional," said Solomon. "The legislative branch did not have an opportunity to face this issue. We felt it was appropriate to act the way that we did. We are appreciative of you for standing tall with us."

Putting the subject of the appointed authorities aside, city officials addressed a basic problem they had with the commission- having no say when it comes to decisions made for Romulus.

"Romulus has been fighting for so many years to get a fair shake," said Councilwoman Debbie Romak.

Seven Romulus residents graduate from Window's class

Willie Hester, President of the Romulus Civic League, taught Saturday Windows classes for ten consecutive weeks at the Thomas Coleman Center. The classes were sponsored by the American Progressive Association.

Graduates were Dorothy Byrd, Bettye Riley Lee, Carla Channey and Alganett Moore. Back row, Willie Hester, Geneva Matthews, Herbert Roberson and Lloyd Coleman.

PRAYER TO THE HOLY SPIRIT

Holy Spirit, you who make me see everything and who show me the way to reach my ideal. You who give me the divine gift to forgive and forget the wrong that is done to me. You who are in all instances of my life with me, I, in this short dialogue want to thank you for everything and confirm once more that I never want to be separated from you, no matter how great the material desire may be. I want to be with you and my loved ones in your perpetual glory. Amen. Thank you for your love towards me and my loved ones. Persons must pray the prayer 3 consecutive days without asking your wish. After the third day the wish will be granted no matter how difficult it may be. Then you must promise to publish this prayer as soon as the favor is granted. L.D.
